- Ongoing initiatives include scaling the district's partnerships with corporations and looking for other partnerships.

President's Reports

De Anza College – Torres

- Torres presented an overview of De Anza College's Strategic Plan for 2027-30. The plan has 3 main goals all in alignment with the Chancellor's priorities:
 - Goal 1: Creating Equitable Access and Pathways
 - Goal 2: Elevating Equitable Engagement and Success.
 - Goal 3: Galvanizing Community Impact and Innovation
- As an example, Torres mentioned that through the "Future Ready" Campaign De Anza seeks to bring a virtual reality lab to the campus so that VR is more easily accessible to students.

Foothill College – Whalen

- Whalen referred to Foothill's strategic plan as well and how it relates to the Future Ready campaign. Whalen explained that Foothill is creating an artificial intelligence lab under the Emerging Technologies Institute. Part of this includes funding the AI fellows' program which includes 4 students, 2 administrators, 2 staff, and faculty. The scope will include exploring AI technologies, sharing information across the campus, providing training for staff/faculty and students, and supporting AI-related projects.
- Foothill will be making the Sunnyvale center a hub for workforce and Allied Health. With approximately 750 students vying for limited seats in Allied Health programs, the idea is to transition students over to similar programs that are just as high paying. One example is the new neurodiagnostic technician program, which is the only public access program in Northern California.

"Future Ready" Campaign Breakout Groups

- Cima reiterated the proposal that the Foundation's focus will be to raise funds for an umbrella campaign to fund projects at the colleges like those mentioned in the President's reports.
- Cima asked the Foundation board to do breakout sessions and handed out post-it notes. He asked each board member to write:
 - What major concerns do you have; what questions do you need answered; and what will you do to support the Future Ready campaign.

Discussion Highlights / Tables Reported Out

- Importance of focusing on the uniqueness of Foothill-De Anza and articulating clear outcomes.
- Concerns expressed about investing in technologies that could become obsolete quickly and wondered if there are ways to mitigate this such as possible partnerships, borrowing, etc. They also recognized increased competition for private funding due to reduced federal support.
- One table requested additional data to refine campaign direction and discussed the need to frame essentials compellingly. They suggested using alumni to aid with fundraising and giving talks to donors that highlight how Foothill-De Anza meets the needs of Silicon Valley. They also spoke of the need to leverage LinkedIn and tell stories to connect donations to outcomes.
- Cima collected all the notes and will compile them for future discussion.
- Cima reminded the board they have four board seats available and asked the board to consider who isn't in this room that can add value.
