Homework Challenge Discussion
- The homework from the March meeting was: Every director to go out and talk with one person about the Foundation and be prepared to share at the next meeting.
- Chandler asked for report outs:
  - Barram and Elliott set-up a reception around Bill Maher Celebrity Forum tickets. They set-up a talk with Judy and two students about VIDA and veteran’s services. After the talk, guests went to the lecture and then for the post-reception with Maher. Elliott said guests were impressed with Judy and the students. An ask was not made that evening. Follow-up will be done.
  - Sathaye brought in a start-up software company, Trimian, that offers an alumni app to meet the Foundation. As a result the Foundation will be launching the Trimian app to Foothill and De Anza alumni this fall. The opt-in app will feature opportunities for alumni to connect, collaborate, mentor and offer and look for job opportunities to fellow FHDA alumni. Trimian is giving FHDA 6 months free and thereafter the cost will be negotiable.
  - Landsberger reported that he ran into a friend who has been involved with education for years and is currently at a high school. His friend mentioned how students aren’t civically engaged anymore. Peter found this a perfect opportunity to discuss VIDA and how De Anza’s students are thriving as they learn how to be civically engaged.
- Chandler had the Board view Gail Perry’s video on 5 easy ways a board member can help raise money.
  1. Make Your Own Gift
  2. Be an Amazing Advocate and Spread the Word
  3. Help Make a List of Potential Major Funders
  4. Thank you Project – ask for a list of 10 people to thank

Foundation Report – Foundation Staff
Cima: De Anza’s Scholar Athlete Ceremony took place and our athletes were awarded 1st, 2nd and 3rd place statewide. The Caracci Classic Memorial Golf Tournament is on June 3rd and features a new local venue, Deep Cliff. All proceeds benefit De Anza auto tech students. De Anza is very close to having a weekly delivery by Second Harvest/West Valley Services for our underserved students. De Anza’s Veterans Services is working to create a Veterans Resource Center in De Anza Student Services Building. No immediate funding issues, but computers might be needed.

Chandler:
Chandler reminded the Board that both Santora and Dubin were terming off as directors. She acknowledged them both for serving the Foundation. Miner also expressed her deep appreciation for such valuable volunteers. Santora and Dubin were presented with commemorative desk clocks as a token of appreciation from the Foundation.

Chandler encouraged the Board to attend End-of-Year events in June. A list of events were hung up so board directors could sign-up. She asked directors to contact her if they were attending since last minute changes in time and location do happen.
